

PRESS RELEASE

 FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Camden County is proud to announce the appointment of Joseph Zaller as the new Director of the Camden County Emergency Medical Services (EMS) department. Mr. Zaller brings a wealth of experience and a strong background in emergency medical services to this new role and will promote the county's commitment to providing high-quality emergency care to its residents and visitors.

With a remarkable career spanning over 20 years in Fire and Emergency Medical Services, Mr. Zaller comes to Camden County from Currituck Fire and EMS where he has worked in various key operational and administrative roles, including; Training Office and Shift Captain which has prepared him to start Camden County's first EMS system. Joseph started working fire and EMS in Buffalo, New York before joining the US Navy as an Aviation Corpsman. After being honorably discharged, Joseph became the Deputy Chief of Gates County Rescue and EMS, where he played a critical role and was instrumental in the agency advancing to the Paramedic level of care.

Mr. Zaller is an adjunct instructor at the College of The Albemarle and is credentialed as a North Carolina Paramedic Level I Instructor.

Joseph Zaller expressed his enthusiasm about joining Camden County, stating, "I am honored to take on this new role and look forward to working with Camden County's dedicated team and partners. Together, we will create a superior EMS department delivering the highest quality of care to the residents and visitors we serve."

Joseph Zaller's appointment as Camden County's first EMS Director heralds a new era of leadership and innovation in emergency medical services in Camden County. His unique blend of experience, expertise, and dedication makes him an invaluable asset to our community.
